Savannah State College President and Staff

The honorable Dr. Prince A. Jackson, Jr. along with Miss SSC.

SGA President

Meditating on SGA.

President Smith smiles with Miss SSC.

There's nothing like total relaxation.

On April 20, 1977 a new SGA President was elected and with him comes a new administration. The young man elected is a former biology major who left college at the rise of his junior year for a tour in the U. S. Army; he returns after a seven year absence to finish requirements presently for a degree in Elementary Ed. and Early Childhood Ed. He holds membership in the NAACP, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., Outstanding Young Men of America, the International Reading Society, the Forensic Society, Student Georgia Association of Education, ASALH, Alpha Phi Gamma Journalist Society and Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society.

Away from his busy schedule as a student-President he enjoys reading, writing, collecting hard-to-find phonograph albums, learning to play chess and Zubaidah. The young man, James Earl Smith, is a native of Blakely, Georgia. He presently resides in Pennsylvania.

Savannah State College: Trad

We the people, encompassed in the tradition of being ourselves. We have passed through years of oppression to arrive at this, our day of achievement. Savannah State College, a pillar of tradition and a symbol of progress. The State College set out on the mission of training Afro-American students in 1890. Established as a branch of the University of Georgia and remained so until 1932 at such time it was integrated into the reorganized University System under the newly created Board of Regents. Afro-American institutions fought to survive the early days of its existence as it carved an institution of higher learning into Savannah marshland. One that unknowingly to its founders would stand all the criticism about the “College By The Sea.”

Did you know Savannah State was the first black college established under the 1890 Morrill Land Grant Act. (The act gave every state established a public agriculture college a certain amount of acreage for each senator and representative in Congress.)

Did you know on November 26, 1890 legislation was passed by the Georgia General Assembly to establish a school for the training and education of black students.

Did you know the institution had several name changes prior to becoming Savannah State College.

Did you know in October 1891 the college began operating from its present site. The first four freshman students entered in 1892.

Leadership

President Richard R. Wright, Sr. began a temporary make-shift operation at Baxter Street School in Athens, Georgia from June 1 to August 1, 1891.

1936 President Benjamin F. Hubert under whose leadership Georgia State Industrial College was renamed Georgia State College and an extensive building program began.

1947 President James A. Colston became fourth president. Enrollment at that time 885 students.

1950 President William K. Payne, fifth president. Board of Regents changed the name to Savannah State College. Richard R. Wright Hall was completed.

1963 President Howard Jordon, Jr., became the sixth president. The college gained the addition of new degree programs on the undergraduate level and brought the first graduate degree center to Savannah in 1968.

1971 President Dr. Prince A. Jackson, Jr., alumnus of SSC and second graduate to become a president of this college.

ition and Progress

Roots

Black education has had some definite impact on this Society in which we live. It can be singled out and written about throughout the recent pages of this nations history. Strong, dedicated black men and women assumed the role of educating young black minds. Preparing them for what journeys might lie ahead. Black colleges have manufactured endless numbers of successful and courageous men and women. Courageous because they braved a world that would sometimes question the validity of their learning.

Ours is a saga of not enough money, lower enrollment, and inadequate facilities. Yet, still, black colleges have survived to write pages of achievement. Some say it was the spirit of obtaining knowledge and withstanding hard times in light of a brighter tomorrow and not being alarmed by the dark days past. Our pride kept it alive, the spirit that glows on each face as he or she passes on into the world. A world that has issued the challenge that each individual must take on and overcome.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It is my sincere hope that this recorded history of the various activities captured in this edition of the "Tiger" will serve to remind you of the many and varied educational and social activities in which you engaged during the years spent in preparation for your chosen academic fields of endeavor. May fond memories of the relationships established with the faculty, the staff, and your peers give you renewed strength to move enthusiastically toward your professional goals.

Savannah State College will profit because of the accomplishments which many of you here today will make in the years to come.

May God bless each of you.

Dedication

Words cannot express the sincere gratitude that the 1977-78 staff feels for the services rendered by such a wonderful individual as yourself. You have devoted your time, patience, understanding, and thoughts to help all of us at Savannah State College. During your reign as Chief Administrator of this fine institution many things have changed. Progress has, indeed, taken place. The 1977-78 Tiger Staff would like to take time out for just a moment to say, thanks for being you, by dedicating the 1978 TIGER to you, Dr. Prince A. Jackson.

Dr. Prince Jackson

Dedication

Words cannot express the sincere gratitude that the 1977-78 staff feels for the services rendered by such a wonderful individual as yourself. You have devoted your time, patience, kindness and thoughts to help us at Savannah State College at such a critical period. The many years you have given to the Public Relations office as Director and the Student Publications office as Advisor has been fulfilled because of you. With this in mind, the 1977-78 TIGER staff salute and DEDICATE this 1978 TIGER to you, Mr. Augustus Howard.

Bio-Medical Society

The Bio-Medical Society first began in 1966 as the Biology Club because a group of biology majors wanted the biology majors to belong to a group. The biology majors gave one hour seminars, especially on subjects that ordinarily wouldn't be taught in class. In 1971, the name was changed to the Pre-Medical Society, and in 1973 it was again changed to the Bio-Medical Society. The purpose of the society is to promote, encourage and support interest in the bio-medical sciences.

Head Football Coach Frank Ellis

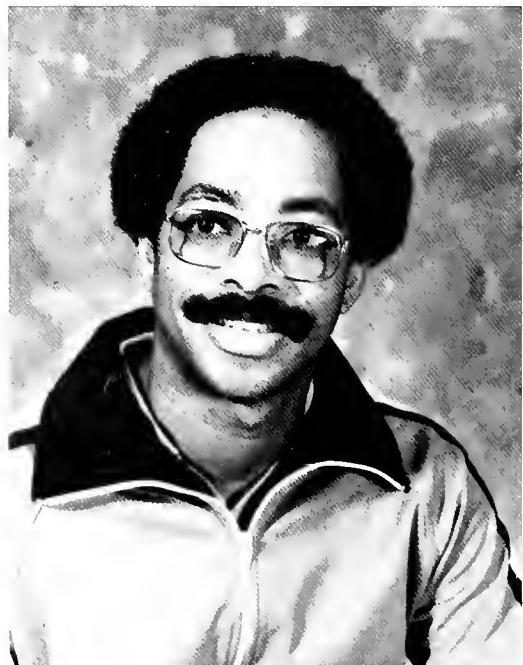

After serving as an assistant for so long, young Frank Ellis is now head Tiger mentor that put SSC back on the football map.

Ellis played football and basketball for Johnson High and later for Savannah State. He played quarterback for SSC, and his knowledge will really help the quarterbacks.

Ellis's enthusiasm rubbed off on his players. The 1977 season is ancient history to him, as he envisions the Tigers embarking upon a new era, winning more than last year.

He did a lot of recruiting in '77 after getting the job for '78 has signed 15 men. All were outstanding players in high school and Ellis hopes this carries over into college ball. Ellis isn't making any predictions.

“The New Look Tigers”

“The New Look Tigers” This particular title is proper and fitting as the Tigers of Savannah State earned it very impressively. Despite their winless season last year, they have proven to many people their aggressiveness, versatility and agility in the football games. This proves of the truth when the Tigers upset Knoxvilles College who were No. 1 in Division II. So, fans watch out for those mighty Tigers for they are sporting, “A new Look.”

27th Annual Southern

A moment of prayer is rendered by member of Wesleyan Gospel Choir.

Greetings from the Honorable John P. Rousakis, Mayor of Savannah.

27th Annual Southern Regional Press Institute Luncheon, held on the campus.

Regional Press Institute

Ms. Donzella Hendrix

native Savannahian and Mutual Black Network News Correspondent, delivers the Banquet Address.

The 1978 edition of the Southern Regional Press Institute of Savannah State College was honored to have a native Savannahian as its Awards Banquet Speaker, Ms. Donzella Hendrix.

Ms. Hendrix launched her career in the broadcast media eight years ago at WSOK radio station in the city of Savannah. From there she progressed to WAOK radio in Atlanta, Georgia serving as newscaster and reporter.

Her voice is heard all over the nation now as she serves as a news correspondent for the Mutual Black Network News in Washington, D. C.

In addition to that, she is a weekly talk show hostess for America's Black Forum, a television show aired over WJLA television in the nation's capital.

Ms. Hendrix is narrator for Martin Luther King Speaks, a weekly radio program produced by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference of Atlanta. This popular show is aired over 715 radio stations.

This hardworking young lady states that her main aspiration now is to get into film production: "My aim is to highlight particularly those areas with story backgrounds of significant interest to Black people."

Recipient of Robert S. Abbott Memorial Award, Ms. Donzella Hendrix

Mr. Augustus Howard presents Meritorious Service Award to WJCL News Director, Mr. Douglas Weathers.

Mr. Augustus Howard presents Meritorious Service Award to WEAS Radio Manager, Ms. Kells Rivers.

Dean Nelson Freeman presents award to 1st Place winner of News Paper-College.

40th Annual Meeting of Alpha Kappa Mu

Delegates attending 40th annual meeting of Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society—Savannah, Ga.

Dr. Clyde Hall, Acting President of Savannah State College extends greetings to the 40th National Convention of Alpha Kappa Mu Society, Inc.

Department of Business

The main purpose of the Division of Business Administration is to provide for students a sound educational foundation for socially effective and gainful employment in the business world. Specifically through curricular offerings, supervised work experience, cocurricular activities, and individual counseling for careful selection of courses in accordance with student aptitudes and interests, the Division prepares students for: Employment as accountants, administrative level secretaries, salesmen, and for mid-management positions in business; Operation, management, and ownership of business enterprises; Teaching business.

Department of Technical Sciences

The Division of Technical Sciences comprises instructional programs in engineering technology, home economics, and industrial teacher education. Instructional activities are organized within the Department of Engineering Technology and the Department of Home Economics. The former offers courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science, with majors in Civil Engineering Technology, Electronics Engineering Technology, and Mechanical Engineering Technology; and to the degree of Associate of Science, with majors in Civil Engineering, Drafting and Design Technology, Electronics Technology, and Mechanical Technology. The three engineering technology curricula are accredited by the Engineer's Council of Professional Development.

Department of Biology

The aims of the Department of Biology are: (1) to provide for all students that knowledge which is essential to an understanding of the biological basic of living; (2) to provide preprofessional training for persons interested in pursuing health careers such as medicine, veterinary medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, and paramedical careers such as medical technology, nursing, physical therapy, medical illustration, medical social worker, and medical secretaries; (3) to provide preprofessional study through the media of advanced courses for persons interested in careers requiring graduate work such as industrial and biological research, public health, college-level teaching, medical school teaching, secondary school teaching, and specialists in the biological sciences. To realize these aims, the Department of Biology offers courses leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Science with a major in Biology as well as a minor. In addition, the Department of Biology offers courses for satisfying requirements for the Bachelor of Science in Education with a concentration in Biology.

Department of Social Sciences

Good Citizenship is the supreme goal of the social sciences. To be able citizens, students, should have knowledge of human and cultural backgrounds and relationships. The essential knowledge comes through study of history, economics, sociology, political science, and other social sciences. The Division of Social Sciences contributes to the realization of good citizenship by fostering three aims of the higher education: Assisting students to attain those competencies and attitudes essential to all persons in a world of interdependent relationships; preparing students for advance study in fields such as social work, sociology, history or political science, and criminal justice, and preparing students

Department of Naval Sciences

The Naval Reserve Officer's Training Corps is academically designed to prepare selected students for commissioned service as regular or reserve officers in the Navy or Marine Corps. In support of this purpose the basic and primary mission of the NROTC program is to develop Midshipmen morally, mentally and physically and to imbue them with the highest ideals of duty, honor and loyalty in order to commission college graduates as officers who possess a basic professional background, are motivated toward careers in the Naval Service and have a potential for future development in mind and character so as to assume the highest responsibilities of command.

Stephanie D. Ladson

Editor-In-Chief

As we look at SAVANNAH STATE COLLEGE: Tradition and Progress, we look at OUR school through the years. We, the staff of the TIGER were unable to capture all of the scenes from the birth of this great institution to present, but we have selected some of the outstanding scenes or events of its progress. As you glance through the many pages of our treasure the TIGER staff hope we have captured a great number of your best activities and events of the school year.

As it has been in the past, the work constantly came in to a limited staff who labored hard to make this book representative of SSC's progress. At this time I would like to thank my entire staff of the TIGER, for without them this book would not have been this great.

Very special thanks goes to Mr. Tommy Williams, Jr. my Associate Editor, who worked just as hard as the rest of us to get this book out; Mr. Augustus Howard, Director of Public Relations and our Yearbook advisor, along with Ms. Barbara McFall and Ms. Patricia Hartwell who made our work a little bit more fun. Others who helped from time to time are also thanked.

In presenting this 1977-78 TIGER, we, the staff hope you'll sit back and enjoy OUR treasure.

Sincerely,

"SAVANNAH STATE COLLEGE: Tradition and Progress" is the symbol of the 1977-78 TIGER. This year also marks another year in the history of this great institution. We, the members of the TIGER staff, have tried very hard to capture as many of the fun-filled events, as well as the defeats of the year. I truly hope that as you have looked through this edition of the TIGER that memories of love, joy, and hope have crossed your minds.

Special thanks is given to our Editor-In-Chief, Ms. Stephanie D. Ladson, who worked so hard on trying to get this book out; Mr. Augustus Howard, our advisor and Director of Public Relations, who along with Ms. Barbara McFall, livened up our long working hours. Special thanks is also extended to the 1977-78 TIGER staff. It was not an easy job to produce a book that captures as much as this one does; however, the TIGER staff, which is composed of a very limited few worked long and hard hours. Thanks to you again! We are now proud to present the finished product to our students of SSC and to the general public.

Sincerely,

A week-long competition is sponsored each year by the Department of Engineering Technology at Savannah State College. Students have 10 minutes to demonstrate their ability in competition. The competition is designed to stimulate interest in engineering and to expose students to the opportunities available in the field of Engineering. It is also designed to draw the public's attention to engineering activities. The competition offers an opportunity for high school students to experience the satisfaction of solving engineering design problems. The design process will provide an opportunity for the student to research, plan, consult, experiment, develop and construct. These activities encompass the full range of engineering experiences.

This year's Engineer's Week

activities will begin on February 20 and run through February 24. The winning teams on the competition as well as the students who compete in the competition will receive a cash prize and their name will be displayed at the competition. February 24-25. There will be six situations involving displays as well as written engineering design. Parents, the parents and interested citizens are invited to visit the competition facilities. The participants of the 1976 competition are also showing great promise of futures filled with success. Harold Lehor and Waldo Lena of Benedictine won the Electromagnet competition. Harold is presently a sophomore at Jacksonville University majoring in Pre-Engineering. He plans to transfer to Rutgers next year and major in Industrial Engineering. Information on Waldo Lena was unavailable at the writing of this Mike Stembriidge has started his sophomore year at Georgia Tech University majoring in Mathematics. And David is a sophomore at Savannah State College majoring in Mathematics. Philip Fratt Yello won the Mathematics competition. Philip is a freshman at Georgia Tech majoring in Nuclear Engineering. Frank is a sophomore at Harvard majoring in Applied Mathematics. Windsor Forest students also won two of the six competitions. The team of Tommy Williams, George Pletcher, Johnny Hallock and Mike Stembriidge won the Architectural Design competition. And the team of Mike Mudrick and David Purvis won the Mousetrap Car competition. Tommy is a sophomore at Armstrong majoring in Computer Science. George is presently working and saving up for college. Johnny is also working and saving his money for schools. He plans to attend Georgia Tech and major in Engineering Design.

Those in the Division of Technical Sciences at Savannah State congratulate the 1976 Engineer's Week Winners and offer their best wishes for the future to all who participated in Engineer's Week 1976. They also wish their 1978 participants the best of luck in the upcoming competition this year.

Savannah State Enrollment Increases

According to information from registrar John Clommons of Savannah State College, the institution has had a 1 percent increase in enrollment this quarter as 2,472 students are compared to 2,456 last quarter.

A breakdown of the figures reveals that 1,671 are returning students and 771 dormitory students. There are 1,321 students at the Savannah State College.

Ft. Stewart. He adds that the final figures will represent an increased total amount.

Gus Howard, Public Relations Director, comments on the increase: In view of what the college is experiencing right now, the increase shows that students still know that they can receive an excellent education here that will prepare them for the working world after graduation. Despite all, our academic programs continue."

College-Industry Coordinator Appointed

Dr. Michael C. Pratt has been appointed as the College Industry Coordinator for the Technical Sciences Division at Savannah State College. He assumed this position on January 3 of this year. The position of College-Industry Coordinator is federally funded through the Advance Institutional Development Program (AIDP) Grant awarded to Savannah State in 1976.

Dr. Pratt is to serve as liaison officer between the Department of Engineering Technology and cooperating industrial, business and educational agencies. His position is multifaceted. He is responsible for securing surplus industrial equipment, materials and books from industry; locating employment opportunities for the engineering technology graduates and, once employed, monitoring their progress is also a chief function of his. He is to solicit scholarships and other types of financial assistance for engineering technology students and supervise the compilation, publication and distribution of departmental promotional and informational materials.

Dr. Lester B. Johnson, Jr., the Departmental Head of Engineering Technology, has said: "We have sorely needed someone who could be a 'Jack of all Trades' and relieve some of our departmental administrative burdens, thereby allowing our teaching faculty more time in the classroom. It appears that Dr. Fratt has answered that need. We would like to welcome Dr. Pratt to Savannah State College and wish him success in his new position."

International Studies Quips

A meeting of all students wanting to join Dr. Lawrence Harris' International Studies organization, which will soon take over the building once occupied by the Seminar African Studies program, will be held Friday the 20th at 11 a.m. Hodge Hall.
